

Winnerwell® Backpack Stove

General Instruction Manual

910223 — Winnerwell® Lantern & Pipe Stand Backpack Stove, Stainless Steel

910217 — Winnerwell® Backpack Stove, Titanium

910382 — Winnerwell® Table Board + Bottom Tray, Stainless Steel

910383 — Winnerwell® Table Board + Bottom Tray, Titanium

Thanks for your purchase. Please read this Instruction Manual carefully before use to ensure proper use, and please keep it properly after each use.

WARNING

- Never use the stove in places where firewood is prohibited, indoors, in tents, or near tables or chairs.
- Stop using in high winds as it may cause danger.
- Never use flammable liquids to start a fire.
- Never move it during use — this is quite dangerous.
- Never transform or modify the products.
- Never use it as anything other than a stove.
- Never use around inflammables.

Notice

- Please understand that it is normal for the metal to get deformed and discolored after heating, but this will not affect the function.
- Always remember to wear gloves when assembling to prevent injury. Please do not allow children to operate.
- Please use the stove in a flat area; tilting by losing balance may cause danger.
- Never place anything beyond the weight-bearing capacity to avoid damage.
- Never pour water on the stove when it is burning; hot water vapor may cause burns.
- Never leave the stove burning unattended.
- Never use it if something seems abnormal.
- Please keep a fire extinguisher nearby in the event of an accident.

- Because of the high temperature during use, please use leather gloves or clips. Never use gloves made of rubber, nylon or chemical fiber.

Maintenance

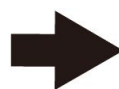

- Please clean the products only when they have naturally cooled off after burning.
- Do not leave it outside. Dry off any water and keep it in a dry place, away from direct sunlight.
- Please make sure to wipe off water and dirt to prevent rusting after use.

Assembly Instructions

Step 1

Step 2

Step 3

Step 4

Step 5

Storage

Source: winnerwell.com/pages/manual-backpack-stove — converted for offline reference.